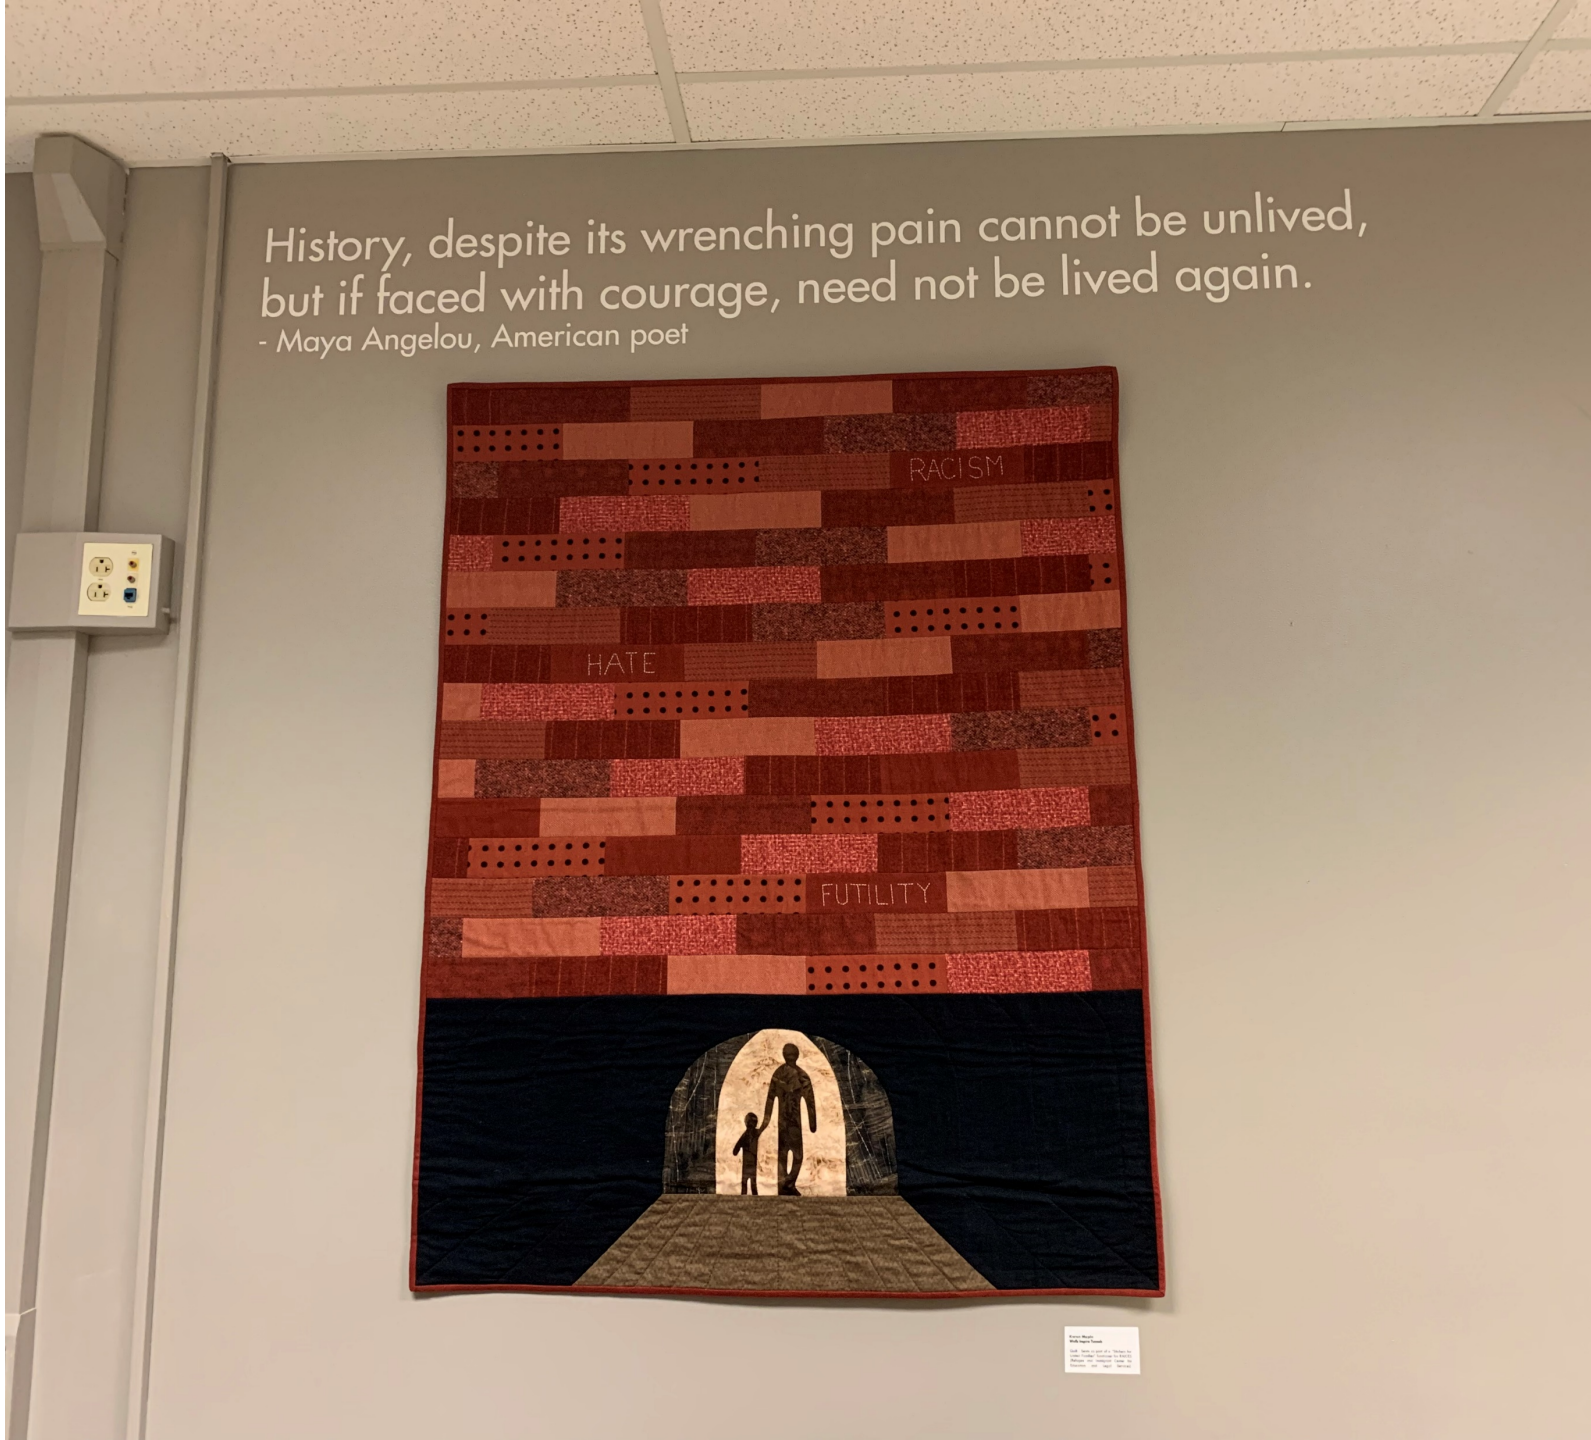
LIGHT Education Initiative

Nick Haberman received a SAEF Grant to help create a center for Holocaust, genocide and human rights education is attached to the school's library. The center will act as a multipurpose space for almost any endeavor related to Holocaust, genocide and human rights education, including classes, professional development and an art gallery (an exhibit for a high school level of the Holocaust Center's Butterfly Project).



LIGHT
Education Initiative
Leadership through Innovation in Genocide and Human rights Teaching obligation to lead a life that is useful to the community.

ise, what's the point of having a life?
Where Will I Live?
STOP
NOW
WHAT YOU DO MATTERS

important. The things you believe in, or the projects you are engaged in, or trying to help ARE very important. But to learn your own insignificance is ndamental lesson one learns in life. Once you learn there is so much to t little way can leave this planet slightly better, less evil, less selfish ou gain enormous energy to keep moving on.
U.S. Congressman

LIGHT EDUCATION INITIATIVE
LIBRARY CLASSROOM